

Women
at the Crossroads:
challenges, choices, changes

Women
at the Crossroads:
challenges, choices, changes

How does it feel to be at the "crossroads?"

Both women and men face transitions in their lives and changes in their lifestyles—a period when one comes to a turning point—a crossroads.

Women at the Crossroads* will discuss and explore the crossroads women face, as well as the freedom and range of choices women today have. How well-prepared women are to meet the challenges at the "crossroads" can make a difference in feelings of self-worth and the ability to take advantage of options.

Women at the Crossroads* is a live, phone-in television program to be broadcast Tuesday, January 30 from 8-11 p.m. on WCVE—Channel 23. It will feature syndicated columnist Niki Scott whose "Working Woman" column is read nationwide. She will be joined by a panel of articulate, informed people from a variety of life experiences. Together they will consider: women and history, myths and realities of womanhood, and the "re-entry" woman. The program will explore how women have affected change in history and literature, philosophy and science, politics and volunteerism and professionalism, sexuality and humanity.

Prerecorded vignettes will be blended with lively debate. At moments one may feel the discomfort of challenge. More often Women at the Crossroads will offer the assurance of support.

Women at the Crossroads looks forward to hearing from you on January 30th. Please call 320-1301 with your questions and comments during this live broadcast. And after the show, please let us hear from you.

Your answers to these questions will greatly aid in determining the effectiveness of Women at the Crossroads, so that future activities can be even better planned and carried. Thank you in advance for your prompt return of the questionnaire.

Questionnaire

Has Women at the Crossroads expanded your awareness of the difficulties that the re-entry woman faces?

No  Yes  Somewhat

Has the program made you aware of opportunities for re-entry?

Yes  No

Did you feel that the role of the humanities (history, literature, philosophy, ethics, art history, and the humanist aspects of sociology, economics, and political science) were of central importance to the theme of Women at the Crossroads?

I did not see the connection between the humanities and the problems of the re-entry woman.

The humanities were minimally pertinent to the subject matter.

The humanities were helpful in understanding the problem.

The viewpoints of the humanities were very helpful in my understanding of the topic.

I am somewhat uncertain as to the meaning of "the humanities."

As a result of the program, do you feel more positive about the possibilities for your own job or career expansion?

I feel more positive about my opportunities.

My attitude about my opportunities are the same as before I viewed the program.

I feel less positive about my opportunities than before I viewed the the program.

I feel more positive about my role as a fulltime homemaker.

After viewing the program, are you more inclined to seek an occupation other than or in addition to homemaker?

Yes, the program has motivated me to seek other opportunities.

I was in the job market before I viewed the program.

No, while the program was interesting, it has not motivated me to seek other opportunities.

Do you consider yourself as having a strong background in the humanities?

Yes, I have a strong background.

I have some background.

I have little knowledge of the humanities.

Do you think the humanities can influence change in society's attitudes toward women?

Yes

No

To a degree

_____ Your age

_____ Sex

_____ Marital Status

_____ Number of dependents at home

_____ Educational level

_____ Race

_____ Personal income level for 1978

_____ Household income level for 1978

_____ Present occupation

If you have further comments, please send them on a separate sheet along with the questionnaire. Thank you.

fold

Does an emerging woman live at your house?

WCVE
Channel 23
Tuesday, January 30,
8-11 p.m.

320-1301

It may change your life.

Women at the Crossroads:

challenges, choices, changes

is made possible by a grant from the Virginia
Foundation for the Humanities and Public Policy;

by WCVE, Channel 23, and

by YOUR SUPPORT of Channel 23's public broadcasting efforts in Central Virginia.

Special thanks to:

Karen Gay For Women at the Crossroads Logo.
Best Products Co. Inc. for promotional assistance;
and to the concerned women and men of the community who have given freely of their time and talents in the preparation and presentation of
Women at the Crossroads.

